End of Life Technology Services

Compliant, Secure, Ethical Disposal and Remarketing

With a raft of complicated new legislation concerning how redundant technology has to be disposed of, throwing away old IT equipment is an ever more complex and specialised business. Bull GlobalCare IT Disposal Service ensures total peace of mind – your organisation achieves complete legal compliance whilst maximising return on your old equipment.

The service offers a range of solutions designed to accommodate everything from pure environmental disposal through to full asset managed remarketing and highly secure data purging.

Our expert and experienced team will advise you on the options available and ensure that the entire process is fully managed throughout. All activity is supported by comprehensive licensing and accreditations including ISO9001 and ISO14001.

Certificates are issued for both environmental disposal and data removal services as standard. Furthermore, all of our data eradication services are covered by professional indemnity insurance.

Reporting is of the highest standards in the sector with in-depth analysis on an asset-by-asset basis. Full audit traceability for every item processed in electronic format ensures that the service is completely transparent.

Our IT Disposal Service is available to all organisations in the UK and Ireland and can be delivered on a project basis or in the context of a wider strategic approach.
